AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the J. W. BURKE. combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thou- designated point. sand dollars have been paid for losses. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: James T. Close.

DIANOS AND MELODEONS .- I have now a L choice lot of the above Instruments, some just landed, per steamer Monticello, from the justly celebrated Manufactories of Horatio Worcester and Curhart, Needham & Co., which, for beauty of finish, sweetness and power of tone, easy touch and durability of wear, never have been and cannot be surpassed by any thing made on the continent of America.

The above declaration being established by the testimony of hundreds of the best judges in the land who have tested their merits by actual experiment, I will venture to state two very valid reasons why you should buy of me, in preference even to buying or ordoring from the factory, as I have yet to hear of the first complaint of any de-have been in the business. In the first place, then, I will sell at procisely the same prices charged at the factory, and thus you save freight, insurance, and commissions for receiving and forwarding. In the second place, you leave in one of your

Virginia towns the small profit I make upon the sale, and to that amount, at least, you contribute to the sustaining and fostering trade, industry and onterprise at home, where it is sure to react beneficially upon yourself and others.

All of which I respectfully submit to your candid consideration. JOHN H. PARROTT. nov 10

Prince of Wales in America:

ened the deepest interest in the mind of every Englishman. I I mean the visit of the Prince of Wales to the North American continent. It was to be expected that when the future hope of England visited the subjects of her Majesty in our North American provinces, he would be received with that enthusiastic affection which becomes a loyal and attached people. Our anticipations have not been disappointed. The reception of the Prince has been worthy of the people who gave it, and honorable to the family of which he is so distinguished a member, and we may hope that that visit will cement more closely those ties which, I trust, are long destined to bind together that portion of the Queen's dominions and the mother country. [Hear, hear.] But we had not an equal ight to expect that when his Royal Highness visted the United States he would be received with anything more than the courtesy which civilized nations accord to distinguished members of the reigning family of another country. But I must say it has been most gratifying to witness the cordiality, the heartfelt kindness, the generous hespitality, and I may say the enthusiastic delight with which that illustrious Prince was welcomed by our cousins in the United States. [Cheers.] They have shown themselves, indeed, to be a noble and generous people-they have shown that they have not forgotten the common stock from which they and we have sprung; and, in spite of events, which, if not buried in oblivion, might have produced some slight alienation between us, they received our future Sovereign-and I trust that future may be long distant-they received tho eltlest son of our gracious Sovereign, not as if he were a stranger belonging to another land, but as been a citizen of their own Republic. [Cheers.]

NEWS ITEMS.

I trust, gentlemen, that the remembrance of the generous kindness thus exhibited by the people of the United States will ever be cherished by the people of these kingdoms. I believe the memory of the Prince's visit will long survive in the breasts

of the American nation, and these matual recel-lections will tend more clesely than ever to knit together those two great branches of the same noble, and I will say illustrious stock. [Cheers]."

Such is the crowded state of the Paris throughfares that during the year five thousand persons have been wounded and seven hundred killed, by the vehicles of all kinds which fill the streets, and render the crossing of the latter almost impossible to pedestrians. The creation of underground railways, and of crossing bridges for foot passengers, is proposed and will probably be decided upon.

A LITTLE GIRL LOST. -On Saturday last Kate, daughter of Col. John Pickell, editor of the Frostburg (Md.) Gazette, aged six years, left her father's residence to visit Mrs. Patterson and daughter, residing only a few hundred yards distant. Becoming frightened as she approached the house by the barking of a dog, she passed beyond it, and immediately got bewildered, and wandered about through fields and valleys, and over hills and mountains, woods and thickets, without resting until half past three o'clock the following morning, when she reached the house of David Knode, about two miles south from Frostburg, where she was kindly received, after an exposure of nearly seven hours to the intense cold weather, the thermometer, during a portion of the night, being only two degrees above zero. Soon after her loss became known, the bell of the Luth-11 till 4 o'clock, free.
